

It is with great pleasure that the Board of Governors of the Inspector General Institute and George Mason University announce the selection of the Leadership Team for the Inspector General Institute. We look forward to working with this outstanding group to meet the needs of the community through this transition period and beyond. They are:

Tom Bonnar, Assistant Dean/Director School of Investigations and Acting Director, School of Management

Mr. Bonnar comes to the Institute with 30 years of experience as a criminal investigator, investigative manager and senior executive; all in the Inspector General Community. He has extensive teaching and training experience at University of Maryland, Anne Arundel Community College, USDA Graduate School, Government Audit Training Institute, the Inspector General Management Institute and the Inspector General Criminal Investigator Academy. Mr. Bonnar holds a Masters in Public Administration from Villanova University.

Angela Hrdlicka, Assistant Dean and Deputy Director, School of Investigations

Ms. Hrdlicka has eighteen years of experience in the Investigative environment with the United States Secret Service and has been the Assistant to the Special Agent in Charge at the James J. Rowley Training Center at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center since December 2003. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Political Science with Comparative Area Studies in Russia and Latin America from Duke University.

Paula Hayes, Assistant Dean and Deputy Director, School of Management

Ms. Hayes has more than twenty nine years of Federal experience, the majority within the Inspector General community or at the Department of Justice. Seventeen of those years have been as a member of the Senior Executive Service. Among other training attributes, she led the planning and development of a targeted science and management based curriculum for the USDA's National Professional Development Training Program. Ms. Hayes holds a Masters of Public Administration from Syracuse University.

William Richardson, Assistant Dean and Director, School of Audit & Inspections

Mr. Richardson joins the Institute with over twenty three years of audit experience in the Inspector General community. He has held positions as Deputy Inspector General at the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, Office of Inspector General (OIG), Director of Corporate Evaluations, Office of Audit, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation OIG and, Director, Office of Performance Audits New York Regional Inspector General for Audit. He holds a Masters in New Professional Studies: Organizational Learning from George Mason University.

Danny Athanasaw, Assistant Dean and Deputy Director, School of Audit

Dr. Athanasaw is very familiar with the Institute, its mission and goals as he has been the Director of the School of Audit and Inspection since July of 2001. His invaluable operational knowledge is enhanced with over 32 years of performance audit and senior management experience in the Inspector General community. Dr. Athanasaw holds a Doctorate of Public Administration from Nova Southeastern University and a Masters in Administration from Central Michigan University.

Cecelia Rosser, Assistant Dean and Director, Research and Outreach

Ms. Rosser joins the Institute with over 26 years of Federal Service the past fourteen held within the Inspector General community. She has held leadership positions, the latest of which was as Assistant Inspector General for Investigations at the Postal Service. Throughout her career, Ms Rosser has been an operational component in developing and delivering training programs to personnel within the Department of Defense as well as Departments of Treasury and Transportation. She holds a Bachelor of Art from the University of Virginia.

Leslee Bollea, Director, Management and Financial Operations

Ms. Bollea has more than 26 years of Federal experience, including 10 years with GAO and 16 years with the IG community. Leslee has served in a wide variety of leadership positions, including 5 years as the Vice Chair's liaison for the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency. She brings a wealth of experience of experience to the Institute in coordinating programs, designing curriculum, overseeing compliance with professional standards, and organizing community-wide events. She holds a Bachelor of Finance and Public Administration from James Madison University.

The Board would like to acknowledge and thank Tom Sharkey, Danny Athanasaw, Tim Robertson, Mike Schexnayder, and Diane Strote for their dedication, leadership and support, especially during this past year of transition. The Board would also like to express its gratitude to the following staff who have worked so diligently to keep the Institute running day after day: Allen Bloom, Kathie Davis, Jeffrey Dye, Chonna Gammon, Michele Lane, Sue Wainright, Darline Wisda, and William Wieler.

The Board and the Leadership Team look forward to working with the IG community and the Institute staff during this transition period, as we prepare to meet the training needs of the IG community during fiscal year 2007 and beyond.